DESPERATE DEMOCRATS INVOKE AID

Of the United States Judiciary-Several Arrests Made Here on Election Day.

THE WHOLE THING AN OUTRAGE

lican Voters-Details of the Several Arrests.

Election day in Wheeling was the ocof Democrats in the issuing of United States warrants for the arrest of alleged violators of the election laws. "Jack' Gillespie, well known about town, was one of the principal Democratic firebrands, and it is a question whether he hasn't placed himself liable to damage suits. He had the supreme nerve Boyd and have warrants issued for the arrest of Frank Miller and Frank J. Miller, the former's son, on the charge of voting illegally, but for some reason the warrants were not served after they had been issued, probably because the whole proceeding was a bluff. Mr. Miller and his son formerly lived in government printing office at Washington, all the while holding their citizenship in this city, as is usual with government employes, and of course en-tirely qualified to vote here. The swearing of the warrants against these men is an outrage, and Gillespie and his sweet-scented gang ought to be made to suffer for their buildozing tac-

Gillesple again distinguished himself by having a United States warrant sworn out against J. Will Kennedy, who is claimed to have voted illegally in Clay district, but again in this init was probably another of Gillespie's

Nightingale Case.

Gillespie was not the only vulture who operated in this burg yesterdaythere were others-and William Henke one of the Democratic challengers in Clay district, was the king bee of them He derived great enjoyment in frantically waving to the breeze a blank warrant, and threatening colored vorespecting Democrats joined Republicans in severe denunciation. There was talk of having Henke arrested for threatening voters. His star performance was having Lewis Nightingale arrested on the charge of illegal voting in resided in Parkersburg, and came to Wheeling last spring, and is consequently qualified to vote here. He came to Wheeling during the spring term of ploye dabout the Federal building as a messenger. It is claimed by the Democrats that his wife lives in Parkersburg ,and that his legal voting place is in that town. Nightingale failed to give bond upon being arrested, and is funny part of the whole transaction is that Nightingale told United States Commissioner Boyd several weeks ago that he intended to vote the Democratic ticket, and would pay no attention to the entreaties of colored Republicans doubtless. Nightingale will know his friends, and certainly they are not to be found in the Democratic party in Ohio county or elsewhere.

A warrant was sworn out against A. K. Wagner, charged with illegal voting in Centre district. This warrant was sworn out by C. W. Rixey, a Democratic worker, but before it could be served Mr. Wagner had boarded a train for Washington, where he is employed in a government office. Like the Millers, Mr. Wagner is fully qualified to vote in Wheeling, his old home, and it is an outrage that warrants should be sworn out against such men.

A Quiet Election.

at Benwood yesterday was a funereal affair. The streets presented the appearance of a Sabbath day and there was no noise to mar the quietude of the city. Up until a late hour last night no arrests were reported. At night the Republican clubs got their drum corps out and paraded the streets as soon as the trend of the returns was learned. Many of the people went to Wheeling to hear the returns. The telephone subscribers received the returns and they were announced during the even-ing at the Blue Ribbon hall. There was considerable noise and din about the streets during the night.

BOILER MAKERS

Strike in the Boston & Albany Railway Shops-Expected the Strike Will Spread.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 6 .- The strike of the boiler makers employed in the Boston & Albany shops, in West Springfield, now threatens to spread to both ends of the line. Within twentyfour hours, it is expected that the boil-er makers in the company's shops at Boston and Albany will be called out, thus crippling the service of the road This action is in consequence of the refusal of the rallroad officials to hold a conference with President John Me-Nelli, of the Brotherhood of Boller Makers and Iron Ship Builders of Ameri-ca, who is now in this city. President McNelli telegraphed to-day to the executive board of the brotherhood, at Kansas City, directing that an order be issued at once calling out the boller makers in the shops at Boston and Albany.

AMUSEMENTS.

A feature of things theatrical will be the appearance of Eugenie Binir and company of well known players, at the Opera House, on Thursday, matinee and night, November 8, in a big produc-tion of "A Lady of Quality," Stephen Townsend's dramatization Frances Hodgson Burnett's noted novel of that name. Being thoroughly versed in the demand of the public, Miss Blair is able to present one of the greatest plays of the time in splendor, magnificence and style. Her supporting comstory or the play is so familiarly known that it is needless to repeat it here. Suffice it is to say that the "lady of quality" is the daughter of a dissipated country squire, who neglects his family. She rises above her surroundings and become a leader. Miss Blair has always designed her own gowns. All the laces, trimmings and materials are imported by her direct. In "A Lady of Quality," Miss Blair appears in some stunning new effects, which are the envy of the female part of the audience. In the first act where Mistress Clorinda diseards the knickerbockers, declaring that she will wear only women's clothes in the future and returns to the stage In an evening gown her appearance is greeted by a burst of applause.

"Friend Eritz" here. Suffice it is to say that the "lady

"Friend Fritz." At the Opera House Friday and Saturday, November 9 and 10, with Saturday matinee, Marion Manola, supported day matinee, Marion Manola, supported by a first-class company, will be seen in the musical comedy, "Friend Fritz," a peculiarly beautiful and charming play. There are no hair breatht escapes, no thrilling rescues, no dark deeds of crime; only the simple story of the love of Suzel for the country squire who had determined never to marry, but who is unconsciously won by her artless ways. The story is so prettily told, the characters and surroundings so symbolical of rustle beauty and purity, the music so characteristically in keeping with the play, that the whole forms a unique and attractive dramatic treat. The scenic dress is elaborate ic treat. The scenic dress is elaborate and tasteful.

"Finnigan's Ball."

The "standing room only" sign was out early at the Grand last night, and out early at the Grand last night, and the theatre was crowded with patrons who were attracted by "Finnegan's Ball," and the announcement of election returns. Murray and Mack and their capable supporting company kept in good humor those in the audience who were disappointed over the election news. It was a happy idea. The company will give maitinee and night performances to-day, and will be on the boards during the entire week.

STEAMSHIPS RACE

15,000 Miles and Reach Port Only Four Hours Apart.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—The Brit ish steamships Baron Eldon and Baror Innerdale, have arrived at the Dela ware breakwater from Java, finishing a race of 15,000 miles within four hours of each other. The vessels left Java September 1 for the breakwater, their Mediterranean sea and North Atlantic ocean. Each was laden with 5,000 tons of sugar. For days after leaving Java the vessels were not in sight of each other, but arrived at Suez about the same time. After leaving Port Said they did not sight each other until the Dalaware breakwater was reached. The Baron Eldon arrived first, and the Baron Innerdate four hours later.

During a gale near the American coast one of the Baron Innerdale's crew was swept overboard and drowned.

A ROAST

On Temperance People.

A little woman out in Towel Hill, Ill. ple in a letter containing the following: "It is amusing to see some staunch temperance people who would as soon be caught stealing a horse as to seen going into a saloon, that are tied down, hard and fast, to their coffee cups as much as an old whiskey sot is to his morning dram. They give the same excuse that the old sot does, they act the same way, the habit is just as surely breaks down the nervous system and ruins them physically and men-tally, frequently setting up some fixed form of chronic disease.

I suppose if I had drank enough at one time to make me entirely drunk, I might have felt casler. "Finally the stuff began to cause coughing after my meals; then I concluded to part company with the demon, and at once, upon the advice of some friends, took up Postum Food Coffee. The change was marvelous, I passed from an invalid to a healthy person, in a very short time. I had quit, a drug and taken up a strong, powerful, nourishing food in liquid form, and owe my present health to Postum Food Coffee."
